

$1,000⁰⁰

That's about how much you pay every year as a result of insurance fraud. It includes higher insurance premiums, higher costs of goods and services, and higher taxes, according to the Coalition Against Insurance Fraud. Consider the following:

- Insurance Fraud could be a Fortune 500 company if it were a business.
- 40% of Americans (2 out of every 5) believe it is "all right" to pad an insurance claim (getting paid for losses they have not suffered).
- Fraud could be as simple as misrepresenting facts on an application or inflating a claim. Or, it could be as serious as submitting claims for injuries or damage that never occurred or staging traffic accidents.
- Americans incur the cost for fraud in every product or service we buy—over $120 billion a year.
- Most people think fraud is a victimless crime, but YOU ARE THE VICTIM. Insurance fraud directly affects the amount you pay in insurance premiums, goods, and services.

INSURANCE FRAUD HOTLINE

South Carolina Attorney General Henry McMaster's Insurance Fraud Division, in conjunction with the Professional Insurance Agents of South Carolina and the South Carolina Insurance News Service, has established the Insurance Fraud Hotline, available 24 hours a day.

Under South Carolina law, you MUST report insurance fraud if you have reason to believe someone has committed this crime. If you suspect someone has committed any type of insurance fraud, call the South Carolina Insurance Fraud Hotline toll-free. You DO NOT have to reveal your identity.

WHAT IS INSURANCE FRAUD?

- Misrepresentation of the number of miles you drive on an auto insurance application.
- Failure to report an accurate medical history when applying for health insurance.
- Fake or exaggerated injury claims to avoid work and draw workers' compensation pay outs.
- Falsification or overstatement of injuries in an auto accident to obtain a large settlement or damages award.
- Staged auto accidents that result in claims for non-existent or exaggerated injuries.
- Fabrications of relationships to obtain life insurance benefits.
- Exaggerations of the amount and value of items stolen from a home, business or automobile.

A Message from South Carolina Attorney General Henry McMaster

As your Attorney General, I am aware of the negative impact insurance fraud has on the citizens and businesses of our state, and I am committed to aggressively investigating and prosecuting fraud cases.

South Carolina, through the General Assembly, continues to demonstrate its commitment to fighting this crime as well. In 2004, the General Assembly appropriated additional funding to aid in the fight against insurance fraud. These funds have allowed me to expand my office from one to five attorneys, each devoted to insurance fraud. This is sending a clear message that insurance fraud will not be tolerated in South Carolina!

Please join me in the fight against insurance fraud by reporting suspected cases at 1-888-95-FRAUD.
